'Spit it back!'

Black scaled dragon shaked his head that no he woudn't. He growled something which Hiccup understood as 'Don't wanna'. The rest was too vague for his little dragonese to understood.

'Problem?'

Fishlegs's amused voice made him jump and almost lost his balance. Really, Gobber could almost dance with hisartificial leg but Hiccup even with his inventions still tripped quite regularly. It was vexing really.

'Yes! HE!' the teenager said pointing his finger at the Black Fury ' took my newest plans and EAT it!'

The other viking sweatdropped. If Thootless went that far to prevent the green eyed teen from bulding his newest idea it has to be bad. Really bad.

'What was it?'

'A music instrument. Remember that guy from the main land? I slightly modified the plans he had let me took. And now it's all there.' he said throwing his arm in his dragon direction.

Fishlegs winced.

'You should go now Hiccup. Stoic wants to see you.'

'Oh. Ok. I'm going. And you!' he glared at the dragon ' We will talk' and he walked away.

The blond viking waited until his friend disappeared from sight and turned to the Black Fury.

'Thanks Thootless.'

He didn't want to hear Hiccup's improved bagpipes anytime soon.
